NLSI LUI KWOK PAT FONG COLLEGE
Promotion of Reading Grant Evaluation 25-26

Part I: Evaluation

1. Review of Target Results

The review of SSR from the library renovation up to the present (2021/22 to 2025/26) shows a steady increase in reading interest. Scores rose from 3.03 to 3.39 among students (S12), from 2.96 to 3.20 among parents (P05), and from 2.77 to 3.02 among teachers (T59). These results indicate that students, parents, and teachers consistently agree that students enjoy reading and frequently engage in reading outside the classroom.

2. Strategy Review

Overall, the reading promotion strategy proved effective. It encompassed individual, class-based, subject-based, and school-wide initiatives.

The results of the annual reading questionnaires further confirm that Smart Library equipment and resources have fostered self-directed learning. Various reading schemes and reading club activities, supported by online reading platforms and the showcasing of learning outcomes, have strengthened students' motivation. These initiatives have encouraged students to embrace new knowledge, cultivate stronger reading interest, broaden their horizons, and develop skills in self-learning.
